WRITING CAMPS AT METROPOLIS

Metropolis Studios is the UK's leading home for Artist Writing Camps - the ultimate backdrop for hosting up to 100 people across our five flagship studios simultaneously, all set around our stunning communal bar at the heart of the building.

With 24/7 access and round-the-clock support from our dedicated in-house production team, we can cater for full studio lockouts for short-term and long-term camps.

Clients typically use our services as a platform to bring leading artists and producers together from all over the world to work on their next wave of seminal projects.

As camp attendees bunker down to collaborate within a creative framework of writing, recording, and mixing, they have extensive access to some of the world's best equipment in huge Control Rooms with our award-winning engineers. Our bar offers the perfect breakout space to connect and decompress between sessions.

WRITING CAMPS AT METROPOLIS

We've got everything covered for you. From event planning and management to the provision of 24/7 catering services, right through to security, we'll work closely with you to design a schedule that will help maximise your time here so your artists can focus on doing what they do best.

Our industry legacy has seen giants like Rihanna, Kendrick Lamar and Future host prolific long-term camps at the Power House but we also regularly host large-scale productions for the likes of Sony, Meta, Warner Chappel and Spotify.

Here is what our clients have to say:

"Last year, we hosted one of the biggest writing camps that London has seen across the Wireless weekends in July, where we brought over around 30 international writers and producers to collaborate with UK talent. The old Power House gave a light, airy, and spacious setting for our people to make themselves at home for 2 weeks and inspired creativity and collaboration, and on top of that, the professional yet personal approach that Lewis, Sara, and the team delivered made an essential contribution to the overall smooth running of the camp."
